

mangroves matter because they ...

1. are home to many kinds of plants and animals
2. protect coastal areas from erosion and storm damage
3. filter pollutants and improve water quality
4. store a lot of carbon
5. are unique and beautiful

